

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A liquid sampler includes: a metering pump which is composed of a cylinder having opposite end openings and a 5 cylindrical cavity, a piston inserted in the cavity from one of the openings of the cylinder, and a driving source for reciprocally and linearly moving the piston; and a pipette directly connected to the other opening of the cylinder.